

Ministry of Labour, Training and Skills Development

Second Career Manufacturing Sector Initiative

Rapid Re-employment and Training Service (RRTS)
Information Deck

March 9, 2020

What is the Initiative?

- The Ministry of Labour, Training and Skills Development continues to look at opportunities to redesign programs such as Second Career to better support the current realities of the labour market.
- The Second Career Manufacturing Sector Initiative introduces some targeted changes to the Second Career program for workers who have been impacted by downsizing within the manufacturing sector - making it easier for them to access training.
- To be eligible to apply under the Second Career Manufacturing Sector Initiative, you must have been permanently laid off, on or after January 1, 2019, from a job in the manufacturing sector.

Next Steps

- If you are interested in finding out more about the Second Career Manufacturing Sector Initiative, please contact the following service provider:
- (insert service provider name, address, phone number, email)
- If you would prefer to work with a service provider closer to your home, a referral can be made by the service provider noted above.